

Terms & Conditions

Account/ Account Use

If your use of the Website requires an account identifying you as a user of the Website (an "Account"):

- a) you are solely responsible for your Account and the maintenance, confidentiality and security of your Account and all passwords related to your Account, and any and all activities that occur under your Account, including all activities of any persons who gain access to your Account with or without your permission;
- b) you agree to immediately notify us of any unauthorized use of your Account, any service provided through your Account or any password related to your Account, or any other breach of security with respect to your Account or any service provided through it, and you agree to provide assistance to us, as requested, to stop or remedy any breach of security related to your Account, and
- c) you agree to provide true, current, accurate and complete customer information and licensing information as requested by us from time to time and you agree to notify us of any changes to this information as required to keep such information held by us current, complete and accurate.

Payment

When you make a purchase on the Website, you agree to provide a valid instrument to make a payment. Pay attention to the details of the transaction, as your total price may include taxes, fees, and shipping costs, all of which you are responsible. When you provide a payment instrument to us, you confirm that you are permitted to use that payment instrument. When you make a payment, you authorize us (and our designated payment processor) to charge the full amount to the payment instrument you designate for the transaction. You also authorize us to collect and store that funding instrument, along with other related transaction information.

If you pay by credit or debit card, we may obtain a pre-approval from the issuer of the card for an amount as high as the full price. If you cancel a transaction before completion, this pre-approval may result in those funds not otherwise being immediately available to you. We may cancel any transaction if we believe the transaction violates these Terms, or if we believe doing so may prevent financial loss. In order to prevent financial loss to you or to us, we may contact your funding instrument issuer, law enforcement, or affected third parties (including other users) and share details of any payments you are associated with, if we believe doing so may prevent financial loss or a violation of law.

Sale of Goods and Services

We may sell goods or services or allow third parties to sell goods or services on the Website. We undertake to be as accurate as possible with all information regarding the goods and services, including product descriptions and images. However, we do not guarantee the accuracy or reliability of any product information or material and you acknowledge and agree that you purchase such products at your own risk. The content of this website, the pages, products and services within are subject to change without notice.

All firearms, used items/firearms, consignment items/firearms, repairs, gun smithing, machining are "final sale" and sold "as is" the buyer is buying an item in whatever condition it presently exists, and that the buyer is accepting the item "with all faults", whether or not immediately apparent. These items cannot be returned or exchanged.

Safety and Use

The wearing of proper hand and eye protection are mandatory when using knives and hand tools purchased from/ sold by West Coast Components. We do not assume responsibility for any injuries that may occur in the application of our products. All knives and edged hand tools are razor sharp 'out of the box', it is your personal responsibility to take every precaution when using our products. We recommend you be aware of any local State and Federal laws that govern the ownership and or carry of edged tools, in particular knives and axes. It is your responsibility to act in a manner consistent with ensuring public safety, compliance with legislation in your State governing ownership and usage, safe and proper carry that mitigates lose of property, damage and possession by unauthorized persons.

Follow the states firearm use policies and safety procedures when around or handling any firearm. Always keep the firearm pointed in a safe direction. Firearms should be unloaded when not in use. Do not rely on the firearms "safety". Know what is behind/beyond the target. Always use proper ammunition for the firearm you are using; make sure to read the instruction manual and the ammunition box in its entirety. Do not use improper reloads or ammunition made of unknown components. Have adequate ventilation at all times when shooting or cleaning your firearms. Wash hands thoroughly after exposure to lead or other chemicals. All shooters/ spectators should always wear proper eye and ear protection. Safely make sure your barrel is clear of any obstructions before use (this can include mud, water/snow, oil, grease, etc.,).
